“How long ‘til the Easter egg hunt?” Molly asked on the way to the farm.

“Aunt Jenny is planning something different this year,” said Mama.

“It’s a surprise,” said Papa.

The only surprise Molly wanted was how many eggs would fit in her basket.

At the farm, Uncle Gerry held a newborn lamb.

“Is this your surprise?” asked Molly.

Aunt Jenny smiled like she was hiding a secret.

“Wait until after lunch. Then you’ll see.”

Molly didn't want to wait.

She peeked in the barn. No eggs!

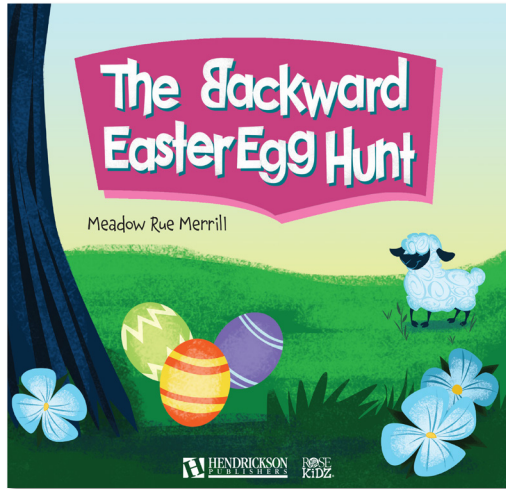

She peeked under a bucket. No eggs!

She peeked behind a barrel.
Just a fluffy yellow chick.

Where had Aunt Jenny hidden all the eggs?

The Backward Easter Egg Hunt Board or Picture Book

Six-year-old Molly can't wait for Aunt Jenny's famous annual Easter egg hunt at Lantern Hill Farm. But something's different this year. . . instead of hiding eggs filled with prizes, Aunt Jenny passes out empty Easter eggs! With a specially prepared rhyming list, the children embark on a scavenger hunt to fill the empty eggs with items that remind them that Jesus died on a cross and rose again. Molly and the other children learn that Easter is about how much God loves us!
